

Pediatric Neurosurgery

Shelly Wang, MD, MPH

Board-Certified Pediatric Neurosurgeon,
Medical Director of Pediatric Epilepsy Surgery

AdventHealthforChildren.com/Neuro

Dr. Shelly Wang, MD, MPH, is a board-certified pediatric neurosurgeon (ABPNS) who completed her Doctor of Medicine and neurosurgery residency at the University of Toronto. Following her residency, Dr. Wang completed a pediatric neurosurgery fellowship at Nicklaus Children's Hospital and University of Miami in 2019. Dr. Wang has been a medical leader in Florida for many years, having served as the Director of Surgical Neuromodulation at the Brain Institute of Nicklaus Children's Hospital in Miami, FL. She has authored over 70 peer-reviewed publications and textbook chapters, and her research has been presented at various international conferences. Dr. Wang currently serves on multiple clinical and academic boards, and is dedicated to advancing the field of pediatric neurosurgery.

Profile

- Fellowship, Pediatric Neurosurgery, Nicklaus Children's Hospital and University of Miami, Miami, FL
- Residency, Neurosurgery, University of Toronto, Toronto, ON, Canada
- Master of Public Health, Harvard T. H. Chan School of Public Health, Boston, MA
- Doctor of Medicine, University of Toronto, Toronto, ON, Canada

Specialties

- Congenital neurosurgical conditions
- Craniofacial
- Epilepsy and functional neurosurgery
- Hydrocephalus
- Neuro-oncology

615 East Princeton Street, Suite 101 | Orlando, FL 32803
407-236-0006 | 407-236-0007 FAX

This physician is part of AdventHealth Medical Group.